1944 Scimitar

Classes Came First, of Course

LORAIN High School boys are dying so that we might live . . . not just exist . . . but really live . . . so we learned our a b c's.

A stands for algebra . . . aeronautics . . . then communications . . . Athletics . . . army commando training . . . Art . . . camouflage . . . posters . . . to win the war.

B is bonds for victory and peace . . . bonds of friendship . . . working together . . . learning together . . . playing together . . . and living the useful school life to win the peace.

C is civics . . . character . . . country . . . and cooperation . . . one school . . . one cause . . . one world . . . to win the abundant life.

And We Labored to Win the War

EVERYBODY had a job to do to help win the war . . . In the factory girls helped to file important papers . . . type valuable directions and job sheets . . . served in countless ways to help where help was needed . . . Boys worked after school and on week-ends . . . operating a drill . . . building ships for victory . . . laboring in various arsenals of democracy.

War bonds and stamps help to win the war . . . Extra bonds . . . pupils sold enough to buy jeeps . . . and field ambulances . . . and training planes . . . We "let 'em have it" for an early victory.

Going to work to help win the war Dorothy Siejack, Jean Gable, Bob Bickle, and Joe Rulli punched the time clock at the Thew Shovel Co.

Doing their bit after school, Bob Novak worked "on the line" and Paul Palco operated a drill press.

We Acquired an Education for Living

YESTERDAY there was peace . . . today there is war . . . tomorrow there will be peace again . . . No guns . . . no tanks . . . no shells . . . for these are tools of war . . . Everyday living was peacetime living . . . Time for reading . . . books, plays, and poems . . . Writing for fun . . . Science bombs a battle front but builds a new frontier of peace and better living . . . We studied to know how to live . . . yes, after the war . . . everyday . . . will be our day . . . to live humanly . . . in home . . . in church . . . in school once more.

. . . in A-9

The health of Jean Blank and Gertrude Boswau was checked by Mrs. McDaniel and Dr. Baldwin of our school staff.

Health and Safety Proved Essential

MORE work to do . . . and harder work to do . . . yet the doctors and nurses determined to keep school children healthy in spite of the war . . . Tuberculosis testing . . . careful examination of pupils who returned to school after illness . . . precautionary diognosis of sore throats . . . headaches . . . assured pupils that the sick were treated well in spite of wartime conditions.

Not only to keep well . . . but to keep SAFELY well was important. Safety goggles . . . protective covering for moving machinery . . . careful use of cutting machines . . . all helped to make school happy and safe for all . . . Keep well . . . Keep safety rules . . . Pupils remembered.

Safety practices were common habit to Jay Lyons, Bill Wallace, and Bill Edwards.

We Learned Tools and Techniques

IMPROVED tools and techniques . . . for a better democracy . . . for a better postwar world.

Girls in shop classes . . . new inventions . . . chemical warfare . . . research . . . camouflage . . . tactics for maneuvers . . . war bonds and stamps . . . why all this?

Our final objective . . . a free world for free people everywhere . . . No more home life interrupted . . . boys in college . . . girls in home ec classes . . . tools and techniques to build boats . . . to build planes . . . to manufacture cars . . . refrigerators . . . symbols for harmonious living in a world at peace.

New tools and techniques were learned by Mary Bihary and Rita Washtak in conference with Mr. Traub.

Jerry Freedman supervised the camouflaging of a model of our high school.

After twelve years of school work, Chris Costin, Ann Scherba, and Lois Brumback enjoyed the banquet served by Alice Szantay, Ethel J. Bridenstine, and Joan Luttrell.

And What to do Between Eat and Sleep

RED and blue points were counted closely . . . Will there be a Senior Banquet this year? . . . No one knew . . . Then came the answer, "Yes, the Senior Banquet will be held this year . . . as usual" . . . Fewer flowers . . . less extravagance but more fun . . . and laughter . . . We walked to football games . . . Bought more season tickets for basketball . . . no operetta this year . . . but more singing in chorus . . . in assembly . . . patriotic songs . . . war songs . . . It was different this year . . . but we kept on . . . cheerful . . . happy . . . hopeful.

How to Use Facts Predominated

IN the Library we found fun . . . pictures . . . facts. Action . . . adventure . . . aeronautics . . . Victory Through Air Power . . . We searched for facts . . . many facts in the laboratory . . . in the classroom . . . in the card catalog. In books we found the facts. In classrooms we interpreted them. On the job we used them.

Knowledge, too, is power . . . to win a war . . . to write a peace . . . to build a future.

Here is a pictorial record of students acquiring facts, using facts, listening to them, and searching for them. Bob Kelleher pointed out geometric principles in the classroom. Dean Buchanan operated the Recordio in the dramatic workshop. Wesley Koch and Georgene Gall used the card index in search for facts.

We learned about living at the Nursery School. Irene Senio read to the youngsters. Their play was supervised by Jean Rosso and Esther Shaw. During lunch time Kathleen Reith and Onieta Kelly assisted in the dining room.

Living involved sewing, marketing, rationing, and ironing, too. Mary Lou Pong, Frances Stilgenbauer, Dorothy Cerveniak, and Esther Smith illustrated these abilities.

While We Learned About Living

WE learned about living . . . they learned about fighting. High school boys and girls took the places of men and women . . . at home . . . in school . . . in the factory . . . We supervised war workers' children in nursery schools. Our school taught conservation of food . . . for food is a war weapon. We learned the "Basic Seven" of good eating . . . yes, we learned ABOUT living . . . while living in war time.

Democracy and Its Many

THE Atlantic Charter . . . that great document emphasized the Four Freedoms . . . freedom of speech, religion, freedom from want and from fear.

Democracy practices the Four Freedoms . . . Dictatorships destroy them . . . In Germany and Japan there is no freedom of speech and religion . . . The people there suffer from want and fear.

Democracy will not tolerate mass execution and starvation . . . That's what Hitler's New Order has brought Europe . . . Democracy will do away with the New Order . . . In its place there will be a democratic order of peace . . . forever.

Duties Were Charted . . .

AN extension of Democracy, the Atlantic Charter was considered by Lillian Zvara, Veronica Mika, and Clarence Wyvill.

The duties of good citizenship, a cardinal aim of the Senate Council, are a matter of record. Its officers, Harry Curtis, Franklyn Baum, and Mary Jean Fauver met with Mr. Luttrell to consider the record.

The history of our democracy was charted by Eleanor Lute in B-1.

Together with

In these troublous days we were inspired from the Book of Books in the hands of Mr. Luttrell.

The singing of our a cappella choir made us conscious of the higher things in life.

The Higher Things in Life

STUDY . . . work . . . athletics . . . lead to a better life . . . yet we needed something . . . more . . . We needed music . . . drama . . . art . . . literature . . . and religion. People must sing and play . . . Lorain High School students had choirs . . . orchestra . . . band. People must create beauty . . . art students made posters . . . pictures. People must have faith . . . students worshipped in their many different ways . . . learned new ideals . . . cooperation . . . helpfulness . . . brotherhood . . . Prepared with these weapons for better living, we went into a confused world . . . molders . . . builders of of better tomorrow.

School . .

FUN . . . and friends . . . Science . . . Art . . . and finally graduation . . . High school days were happy days . . . Education for tomorrow . . . Education for living . . . the American way.

perintendent of Lorain Schools

A Message From Mr. Bunn

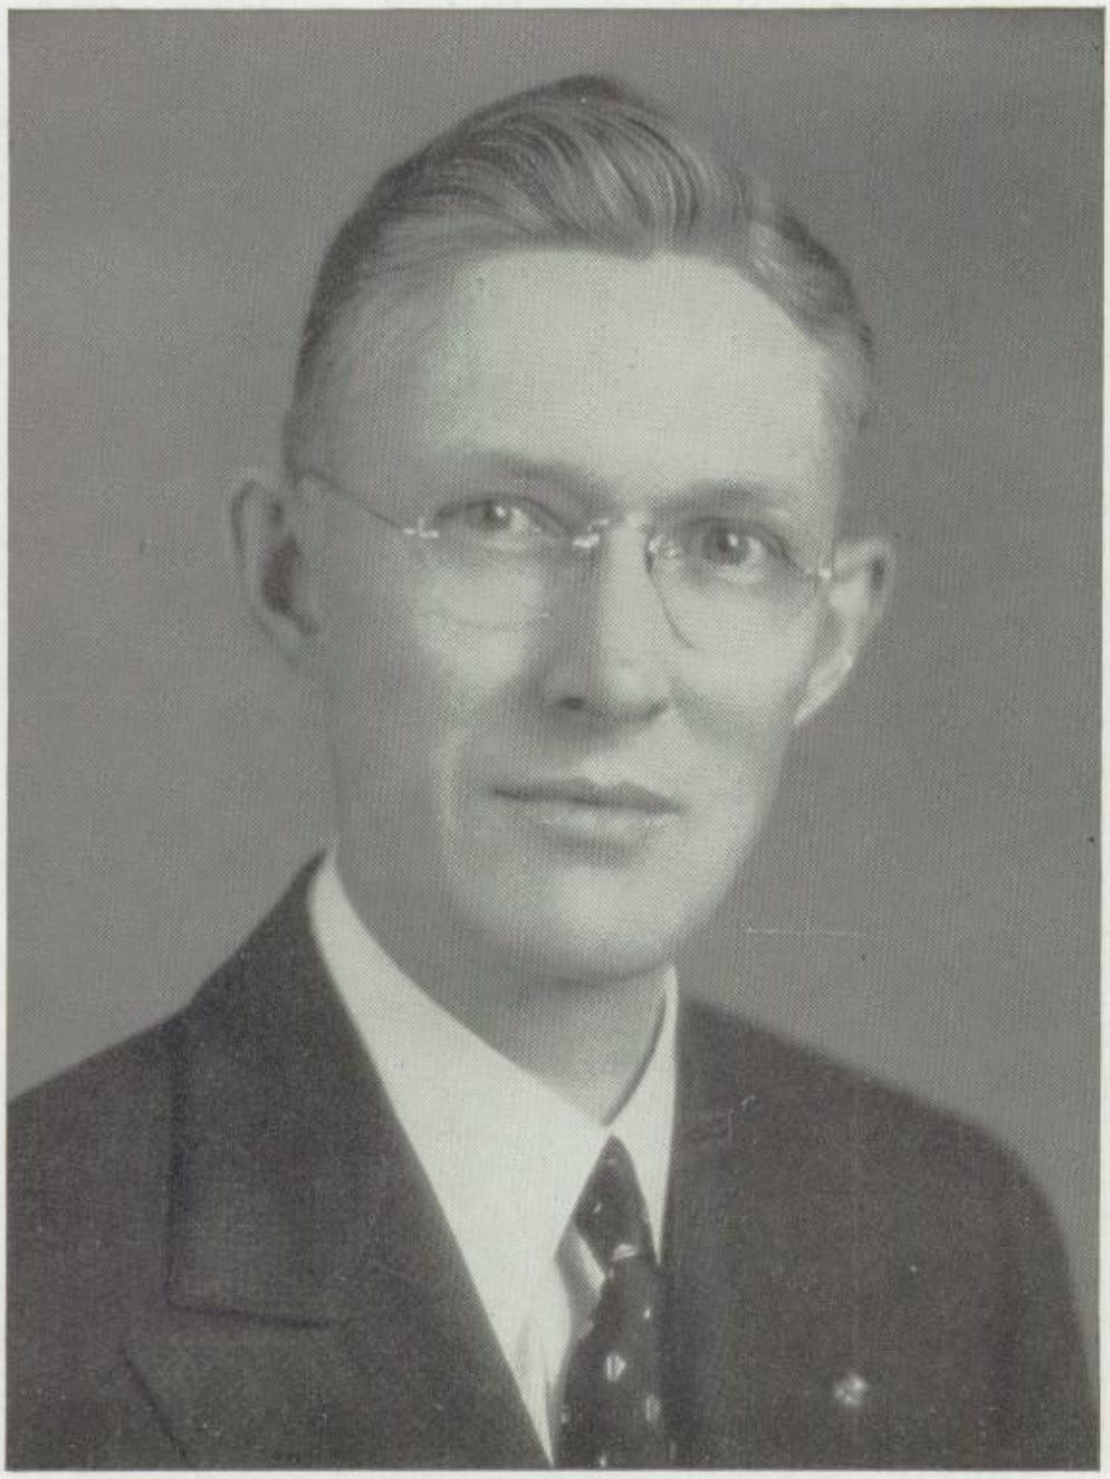
"Victory is our business" is the War slogan of a big United States Corporation. That same spirit of victory has been very noticeable in Lorain High School this year. The pupils and teachers have demonstrated through their many war time activities the determination to do their part in helping to win the War. This inspiration to work for victory is found in the outstanding records that are being made by our alumni and former students on the battle-fronts of the world. Lorain High School is represented in every branch of the armed forces—in the air, on the land, on the sea, and in many technical and civilian services. When we read about the heroic deeds and the unselfish sacrifices of our alumni, our hearts are filled with pride. How can we account for their remarkable achievements? Before the War very few of our boys had any knowledge of fighting because we had not given them training in the arts of war. But they have more than made up for this lack of military training by their fighting spirit—a spirit that will not accept defeat. That is the spirit of victory which springs from a fierce love of country, a staunch loyalty to ideals, and an unswerving devotion to duty. These boys know what they are fighting for. They are willing to die that we may continue to enjoy the blessings of life in a free land. May their spirit inspire us so to love America that we, too, may be ready not only to live for our country but, if need be, to die that we may perpetuate our form of government and our way of life.



MR. C. J. W. LUTTRELL
Principal of Lorain High School

A Message From Mr. Luttrell

"Education for everyday living"—the theme of the "Scimitar" this year—is also the philosophy of Lorain High School.

Our school believes that through a well-planned educational program emphasizing personal growth, the development of special interests and skills, the teaching of independence of thought, and the presenting of opportunities for the practice of democratic principles, the pupil learns how to solve problems which not only help him while he is still in high school, but fortify him for the days after graduation. Boys and girls too often fail to recognize the rich opportunities in this broad and rich program until they have left their Alma Mater. Scores of alumni in our armed forces tell us that pupils should do better work in high school and get more out of their school experience.

Every graduate should have achieved certain well-defined aims. He should be proficient in the fundamental processes—in reading, writing, and arithmetic. He should know how to keep physically fit. He should be able to discriminate between facts and half-truths and know how to use facts. He should have acquired certain useful skills and techniques. He should understand the meaning of a representative democracy and the obligations it carries. He should be able to fully appreciate the cultural and the spiritual values of life.

The seriousness of purpose exemplified by our youth leads to the conclusion that they are meeting the challenge and that they are committed to the enormous task of winning the war and of helping to create the kind of world furthered by the Prince of Peace 2000 years ago.

In fairness to our alumni who have made and are now making great sacrifices—some the supreme sacrifice—we on the home front must not shirk our duty. Each of us must continue to do his full share in winning the war and in helping to make this a safer and better world.

LIVING REQUIRES GUIDANCE

★ The war changed the future plans of many girls. These changes were reflected in the Guidance Department, too. Fewer planned to attend college, many intended to join the WAVES, SPARS, Marines, or WACs; nursing came in for increased emphasis, and all in all Miss Long had a busy day. Industrial Arts had been opened to girls who intended to help Uncle Sam in war work after graduation.

Florence Stempowski and Miss Doris Long discussed guidance routine.

E. M. McCaskey, B. S. Mount Union College, Harvard University. Boys' Guidance, Business Training I.

Doris M. Long, A. B. Wittenberg College, Oberlin College. Girls' Guidance, English.

★ Every morning the principal's office was crowded with boys waiting in line to see Mr. McCaskey, the Boys' Guidance Director. Besides giving out the "yes" and "no" permits, he gave his time to guidance conferences, helped to keep the boys posted about their credits, and aided the new pupils in getting oriented. Mr. McCaskey also taught Business Training along with his other numerous duties.

James Parobek proved himself an able assistant to Mr. McCaskey.

They Helped Provide an Education For Living

★ Priorities, ration stamps, shortages of material, and employment problems soon affected Lorain schools, and the Board of Education, too, was aware that schools were not immune to war. Although the problems seemed almost too big for solution, by sheer hard work and determination to keep the schools going as well as possible, the members did a commendable job of school management.

It is the duty of the board to finance our schools, to provide students with necessary equipment and issue building contracts.

On the first Thursday of each month the Board holds its regular meeting. The board consists of D. W. Lawrence, who is the senior member and acts as vice-president, Dr. W. S. Nielsen, Philip H. Austin, Joseph A. Svete, and Dr. S. V. Burley, who serves as president. Mr. C. A. Hartz and Mr. W. A. Pillans are appointed by the board yearly. The former is the clerk of the board and the latter is the business manager.

★ One of the busiest people in Lorain High School —that was Mrs. Rose B. Denney, Mr. Luttrell's efficient secretary.

Writing letters of recommendation, making out transcripts of credit, issuing early dismissals, late permits, she acted as a general information bureau for pupils and teachers.

From the information and statistics compiled in the office, Mrs. Denney has discovered the following changes in L.H.S.: smaller enrollment, more boys going to college due to the army and navy courses, and more girls training for nursing.

Mrs. Rose B. Denny

Mrs. Denney is assisted by office aids who take care of such activities of answering telephones, running errands, and checking pupils' schedules.

Mrs. Denney, an alumnus of L.H.S., was a former secretary to Mr. Bunn, and took her present position in 1940.

A Teacher's Prayer

(This prayer by Chaplain Wallace Grant Fiske, OCS, AAFETTC, was used at the district convention of the Florida Education Association at Miami high school. We are indebted to the Greater Miami School Digest for permission to reprint it. Editor)

O God, Thou who hast ever brought all life to its perfection by patient growth, grant me patience to guide my pupils to the best in life. Teach me to use the compulsion of love and of interest; and save men from the weakness of coercion. Make me one who is a vitalizer of life and not a merchant of facts. Show me how to overcome the forces that destroy by harnessing the urges that lead to the life abundant. Give me such a sense of value that I may distinguish the things that last from those that pass, and never confuse mountains with molehills.

Grant me insight to overlook the faults of exuberance because I can see with prophetic eye the possibilities of enthusiasm. Save me, O Lord, from confusing that which is evil with that which is only immature. May I learn the laws of human life so well that, saved from the folly of reward and punishment, I may help each pupil of mine to find a supreme devotion for which he will give his all. And may that devotion be in tune with Thy purpose for Thy world. May I be so humble and keep so young that I may continue to grow and to learn while I teach.

Grant that I may strive not so much to be called a teacher as to be a teacher; not so much to speak of Thee, but to reveal Thee; not so much to talk about love and human service, but to be the spirit of these; not so much to speak of the ideals of Jesus, but in every act of my teaching to reveal its ideals. Save me from letting my work become commonplace by the ever-present thought that, of all human endeavors, teaching is most like the work that Thou hast been doing through all the generations. —Amen.

They Served the School in Many Ways

Stop! Look! Listen! These familiar words of caution often go unheeded by our students, so various safety measures are provided for us. The most important safety group in Lorain High School is the Safety Patrol, sponsored by Mr. Cook. The boys volunteer for the job and stay out in all kinds of weather. Not only are pedestrians of main concern to them, but also our bicyclists and motorists. However, their services do not end at the crosswalk; you will find safety-minded young men in the reserve seat section of our football games, helping spectators find their seats and they also assist at the basketball gamess.

Let's see . . . Anders, Blake, Brown . . . Oh, Conners is absent. These are the thoughts of the Lorain High monitors. Among other duties they must check the seating arrangement, the library permits and the absentee list, according to the attendance of the study hall. This is an unorganized service group without officers or regular meetings.

Top row: Jane Saville, Patricia Pikora, Darlene Vargo, Edith Reed, Joan McDermott, Adele Zlotnicki, Smilla Trbovich, Adelia Miraldi, Ann Vucetich, Audrey Tomikel, Marion Ward.

The movie operators, under the guidance of Mr. E. A. Monegan, have made it possible for us to expand our views and broaden our knowledge through the versatile medium of the visual aids. In the class rooms we saw instructive and educational films such as, "The Germination of a Seed," or "The Life of Rembrandt." During the noon movies we were entertained by the current Hollywood favorites.

The boys and a "girl" who ran the projectors had to first qualify by taking an examination that required study and training in the proper care and handling of projectors.

After completing their apprenticeship, the full-fledged operators gave up their study periods to serve Lorain High School in the way they knew best.

"Tickets, please," was a well-known phrase heard repeated many times during the year in the auditorium. The ushers, appointed and supervised by Mr. Luttrell, were on the job for many occasions; Dramatic Club play, commencement, and the pageant. These boys were assigned to certain sections of the auditorium and balcony to do their job of seating people. While the ushers were at work out in front, behind the scenes were the stage hands, managed by Mr. Traub, making last minute arrangements, moving scenery, and adjusting lights.

Student government in action, that was the Senate Council at work. Supervising the sale of war bonds and stamps, sponsoring school dances, compiling names for the Service Honor Roll of alumni in the armed forces, salvaging tin cans for the war effort were some of the activities of the Senate Council. Lively discussion of topics of the day were held when this representative body of Lorain High School met.

Members of the Senate Council were composed of representatives from all classes and activities. Most of the work was carried on by the various committees of the organization.

Distributing teachers' mail, running errands, delivering messages, checking absentees, typing, filing, and answering the telephone were familiar duties to the office aids. This gave the aids practical office experience.

Aids also worked in the Office Annex, under the supervision of Miss Simpson. They ran off stencils, the absentee lists, and filed stencils when they were not in use.

Every period of the day found one or more aids in the office.

Leaders in Schoo

"I pledge myself to uphold the high purpose of this society to which I have been elected, striving in every way, by word and deed, to make its ideals the ideals of my school and of my life."

To be a candidate for membership in the National Honor Society, a student must rank in the upper third of his class in scholarship. Teachers who are familiar with the candidate grade them in leadership and character. Service rendered to the school is the fourth cardinal requisite of the National Honor Society. Those who have the highest composite score are automatically eligible to take the pledge of the National Honor Society, which is printed above.

The Band Added Color and

The crowds in the grandstands cheer wildly as the members of the Lorain High School ninety-one piece band, gloriously brilliant in their red, white, and blue uniforms, march forth proudly to the strains of a stirring martial rhythm.

That scene was a familiar one to Lorain High football fans last fall. They enjoyed the band's thrilling, martial music, and marveled at their intricate marching formations during the half as they formed a whirring plane, the ship, Lorain or any of the other beautiful and appropriate representations.

Under the baton of Mr. W. H. Tipton, who carried on after Ensign H. F. Brown was commissioned for the service, the band members have performed faithfully and well.

During the year of war, the band has directed its greatest efforts towards community service by playing at the May Music Festival, closing hour, and the service recognition programs. The spectacular launchings at the Lorain shipyards would not have seemed complete without the thrilling strains of our National Anthem as played proudly by the Lorain High School band in the presence of the United States Naval Commander, Admiral King.

"And the Night Shal

Music is an echo of the soul of a nation . . . what the nation thinks, what it does, how it lives. The Lorain High School orchestra deserves much credit for having brought to us, in these troubled times, the soothing quality of fine orchestral music.

Here again, Mr. W. H. Tipton came to the rescue. Under his able direction, the orchestra members have presented many concerts, played the incidental music at the Dramatic Arts play, and have accompanied beaming graduates as they marched down the aisle at commencement time.

Yes, we in truth feel that . . .

" . . . the night shall be filled with music
And the cares that infest the day
Shall fold their tents like the Arabs
And as silently steal away."

e Filled with Music"

Lorain High School has long held the belief that Music is a vital part of any program of "EDUCATION FOR LIVING." Participation and meaningful appreciation by the student body have been our aims and none can say these goals have not been attained. Our musical organizations have been outstanding in the community for a long period of time. Their excellence has become traditional.

Many of our graduates have had outstanding success in musical careers and we feel that many of our students obtained a thorough and firm musical foundation through membership in our high school musical organizations. So we are justly proud of our fine record not only from a community viewpoint but from a personal and individual point of view as well.

Lorain abounds with musical talent and it is the function of the school to train and shape this wealth of talent to its best advantage. This is our challenge and Lorain High School rises proudly to meet it.

The Choir Adds

Miss Dorothy Jones,
Director

On wings of Song, Lorain High School's eighty-one voice a cappella choir carried through the year excellently despite wartime curtailments of the regular radio broadcasts, visits to out-of-town schools and the annual operetta.

Coming in November, Miss Dorothy Jones, the director of the choir, adequately assumed the duties of Mr. Clifton Burmeister, who left to help "Uncle Sam."

Miss Jones, formerly served as instructor of music at Longfellow Junior High School. Now in addition to her high school groups, Miss Jones is the supervisor of music in Lorain's public schools.

The senior choir is one of the most closely knit organizations in school. Here it is, that group effort results in a fine spirit of unity and a sense of loyalty to the organization. Under these influences lasting friendships are often formed.

The "Donkey Serenade," and "Scotch Bagpipes" were two of the most successful numbers of the season, enjoyed by both the choir and its audiences.

In the former they got quite a "kick" out of their parts which required that they bray and make other "donkey like" noises. The latter was ingeniously arranged to stimulate the sonorous whine of Scotch bagpipes.

Semi-annually, choir officers and new members are inducted into the group. Officers installed in June of last year were: Frances Buell, Edward Greenwood, Dean Buchanan, and Janet Gibson. January officers were: George James, Alvin Ricci, Josephine Edwards, and Vivien Kelley.

In addition to the regular choir, a group of ten choir members constitute the "madrigal singers," who specialize in Old World folk tunes. Yes, despite wartime hardships the choir has done its job and has done it well. Another year—another splendid performance! Education for living involves singing.

Gangsters, lawyers; gun molls, widows; evidence and cross examination. Was it murder? These were briefly the elements as the D. A. class play, "The Night of January 16th," was presented at Lorain High School on the evening of April 28.

Lorain High School Became a Court-Room

The three acts take place in a court-room at the criminal trial of Karen Andre, on trial for her life, for the alleged murder of her employer, Bjorn Faulkner. The unique feature of the play was that it called for a jury to be picked from the audience. It was the decision of this local jury that acquitted Karen Andre in a tense and highly dramatic verdict.

Amid oh's and ah's from the startled audience, the witnesses got up from their seats in the auditorium and made their way to the stage to give testimony to the attorneys, Flint and Stevens.

The production, one of the finest in many years, was directed by Miss Ruth Hardy, assisted by other faculty members and committees of students.

On the 1944 Scimitar Staff

"Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today." This was the very appropriate motto of the Scimitar Staff of 1944.

From September until June the editorial staff could be found any ninth period down in the Journalism Room hard at work.

When time was scarce and work was abundant tenth periods and the night shift came into use.

Grades that remained good under the strain, lots and lots of time, and interest in the yearbook were the three requisites of staff members. Journalism was not required, but was a decided advantage.

Mr. H. A. Oliver was the general information bureau to all, and Mr. Victor E. Dobras supervised copy writing, lending a helping hand when necessary. Mr. D. C. Davis was our ace cameraman who "snapped" all underclassmen and activity groups.

Shortage of metal, scarcity of film, and the use of victory metal made necessary accurate planning and cutting. Smaller engraving cuts and fewer pictures were the results of the curtailment of vital materials.

The Scimitar staff extends its whole-hearted appreciation to the Thew Shovel Co. for its splendid cooperation.

The staff expresses the hope that the 1944 Scimitar will prolong the cherished memories and friendships of 1943-44 high school days for the future.

Valuable experience results from serving on the business staff which secures and collects ads, handles the finances for the Hi-Standard and Scimitar, and sends the Hi-Standard to the boys in the service. These are a few of the jobs being carried out by the business staff.

Working many hours this group solicits the business district for ads and at the end of each semester collects for both the Hi-Standard and Scimitar.

An innovation is the servicemen's newsletter a mimeographed publication which consists of names and addresses of former Lorain High School students and a letter from some member of the faculty.

Mr. Bateman, the business adviser for many years was taken seriously ill in November and was unable to continue. His work was taken over by Mr. Cook, who has been carrying on this work. Mr. Cook states that the staff has been loyal and cooperative in every way.

A "nose for news" and lots of time were two requirements for the Hi-Standard Editorial Staff. The staff included members of the Journalism II class and advanced students.

These students were responsible for newsgathering, writing the news, copy-reading, proof-reading, and page make-up. Miss Watson and Miss Bleyer, faculty advisers, assisted the staff in writing heads and in the newspaper organization.

Much of the copy-reading was done by the editorial staff "at the printers." This staff also selected the picture for the front page. The work that no one else would do became the job of the editors.

Scholastic credit was given to first year journalism students and for all work done afterwards service credit is given.

This biweekly publication was eagerly awaited by all high school students as a record of their activities.

We Won the Lake Erie League Trophy

Coach Pryor—11 Steelmen—cooperation—enthusiasm—spirit—an unbeatable combination—an unbeatable team—the undefeated champions of the Lake Erie League in 1943. Featuring speed, timing, and precision of executions, the Steelmen opened the season with a smashing victory over Akron North, running up a score of 54-0.

Two easy victories over Fremont and Cleveland Heights raised our hopes before the approaching battle with Shaker Heights a reputed championship contender. The game was exciting and close, but Lorain drove through for another victory.

Our toughest game proved to be a grueling mud-battle against Campbell Memorial. However, a powerful backfield added to a quick charging line again proved too much for the opponents. Victories over Lakewood and Shaw put Lorain in coveted first place. Elyria, then Canton Lincoln fell beneath the onslaught of the Steelmen.

Lorain ended the season with a sensational record—and the CHAMPIONSHIP of the Lehi League.

Standing left to right: E. W. Bash—he taught the tennis squad the fine points of the game; W. A. Smith—a brilliant program of intramurals kept "Pete" busy this year; C. R. Swartwood —coached a fine reserve team for a winning season next year; Herbert Mills—again brought the Steelers through an exciting season to the Kent Tournaments; E. M. McCaskey—divided his time between guidance, sports and gym classes; Harold Pryor—led the Steelmen through a sensational season to a Lehi League victory, his parting gesture before entering the Navy.

Seated left to right: George Daniels—Lorain High's "grand old man" of sports; Miss Gertrude Zink—girls' athletic director who pursued an active program of sports; C. C. Waterhouse—"Doc" took care of our "boys" allowing no minor cuts or bruises to pass by his watchful eye.

Nine games . . . nine victories is really something to be proud of. A well balanced team represented our school this season. The "wrecking crew," as Coach Pryor called his team, had the spark when it was needed most. They had a love for the game in their system and took no game forgranted.

There was a display of real spirit in the team . . . plenty of spirit. It helped to pull them through when the going was tough or doubtful. That tough "break," the time a player fumbled near the goal line, or the untimely injury when the boys were headed for the touchdown; all these woud have stoppd a lesser team. The team played the kind of football they were coached to play . . . and won.

Ten of the Varsity played their last game in November and are now headed for a bigger and tougher game on an international gridiron.

Only eight lettermen will return to form the nucleus of next year's team. There will be some likely material from the sub-varsity team. Some new players will be discovered. There will be another good team when the lights go on again at the Recreation Field.

Girls' Sports

Although he have stressed exercises more than we usually did, the war had little effect upon the girls' physical education program because it has always been well-balanced with its variety of activities.

Physical education helped to build a healthier body and mind. It helped us in our association with others and taught us to be good sports.

The girls had a variety of games in which they participated. Ping pong, badminton, and shuffleboard were the individual games in which the girls took part. Basketball, volleyball, and indoor were enjoyed by the teams. Baseball was played at Lakeview. The girls also went hiking.

There may be no girl commandos, but there will always be a need for girls, as well as boys, to be strong in body as well as in mind.

uild Strong Bodies

Boys' Sports

"Play to win, but play for the fun of playing." Keeping this slogan in mind over two hundred boys this year took advantage of Lorain High's program of Intramurals. These boys played because they liked to play. But as they played, they built healthier, stronger bodies, they learned sportsmanship.

Under the supervision of W. A. Smith the program of Boys' Intramural Sports began in the first semester with a very large participation.

Twenty teams began the volleyball season and after a hotly contested set of games the Torpedoes emerged victorious. The coveted basketball award, the Henderson Memorial Trophy, was won by the Pearl Harbors. Ping pong offered interesting moments for many and the softball season, which is just beginning, is proving to be a thrilling climax to a brilliant season of Intramural Sports.

Basketball

The Lorain High cagers, under the capable direction of Mr. H. A. Mills, ended a successful season tied for third place in the Lehi League and with a total of ten wins and eight losses.

Starting with five lettermen and led by Captain Dick Stevenson, who was high-scorer for the season, the Steelers won the first two games with the lopsided scores of 44-28 over Amherst and 39-33 over John Marshall. Then followed two defeats at the hands of Bellevue 44-42 and Ashland 59-42.

Their first league game of the season, against Shaker, was a victory 35-29. We next lost to Cleveland Heights 43-38 and Shaw 31-25. Lorain was then pitted against the Rangers and this game proved to be one of the most exciting of the season. In a nip and tuck battle, encouraged by an almost hysterical crowd, Dick Schmidt sunk a foul shot in the last thirty seconds of play to win the game with a score of 32-31.

...ooting Brought Success

Lorain finished the rest of their schedule with three wins and three losses defeating Elyria in both games 36-32; 32-39, and giving Lakewood another trouncing 30-27. Two of the "heartbreaker" games of the season were played against Shaker and Cleveland Heights in both cases the Steelmen's Basketball quintet lost by one point.

In three post-season games at the Kent Tournament, Lorain advanced to the semi-finals but was defeated by Akron North 53-37.

Will You Be Prepared?

Nearly ten million men are in war service. Before long they will return to this country and many of them will take over "civil life" jobs.

There are thousands of women now working who never worked before, and they will want to continue to work after the peace has been won.

All of this has a very direct bearing upon your life in the immediate future. You will be in competition not only with boys coming back from service and the women who now have jobs, but also with a great group of half-qualified young people who, instead of going to school at the right time, took over temporary jobs and will soon be adding to the total of the unemployed.

If YOU hope to hold a desirable position, you will have to get ready for it. There will be plenty of employment and plenty of unemployment. The unemployment will go to those who are not qualified; the employmnt, to those who are. You can figure it out for yourself—and certainly you should do so.

Prepare Now! Get a headstart toward success; get a better job, and be ready to advance from there when you are called, toward a greater future.
